 - Be on site by 8.45 a.m. and not leave before 3.25 p.m. unless working shorter part-time hours and/or granted permission to arrive later or leave earlier by a member of SMT, in the latter case signing the exit book in the main reception office;
 - Arrive punctually at lessons, ensuring that pupils line up in an orderly manner before entering and that they remain standing until told to sit and:

- Teach or supervise them for the duration of the lesson or such part of the lesson as may be designated;
- Not allow pupils to leave the class unless in accordance with school procedures and only after providing them with corridor passes;
- Not dismissing the class before the end of lesson bell (but see below);
- Be at your designated duty location by 8.45, 10.50 and at the buses by 3.15 (bringing pupils from lesson 6 with you if necessary) on the day when you are designated to undertake duty;
- Inform your Duty Team Leader if for any reason (other than unforeseen absence from school) you are unable to carry out the above duties.

5. In carrying out your teaching duties, you should seek to secure the highest possible standards of achievement and behaviour of pupils in your classes by:

- Ensuring pupils adhere to school uniform rules
- Teaching in accordance with the agreed Faculty/Departmental scheme of work;
- Planning and delivering lessons which have due regard to the school's teaching and learning policy
- Plan and deliver effective lessons in line with the new CfW. Lessons should reflect the 4 Purposes and the What Matters statements in the AOLE.
- Assessing pupils' work and recording and reporting on their progress in accordance with the school and Faculty/Departmental assessment policy and marking policy
- Assessing pupils' work and recording and reporting on their progress in accordance with the school and Faculty/Departmental assessment policy and marking policy
- Setting appropriate homework
- Ensuring that pupils make appropriate use of the homework diary
- Preparing pupils for any relevant examination course followed by the Faculty/Department, having due regard to the Faculty/Department Scheme of work, the examination specification and the rules of the examination board;
- Following the requirements contained in any IEPs/PSPs relevant to pupils in your classes;
- Using the school's underachievement and behaviour recording systems in accordance with any guidance issued by the Headteacher;
- Following the school's pupil conduct policy and other procedures to promote good behavior;
- Following any policies or procedures in relation to the teaching of pupils with additional learning needs (ALN);
- Following any policies or procedures in relation to the teaching of able and talented pupils;
- Seeking, as far as is reasonably possible, to secure parental co-operation to sustain and improve the levels of their children's achievement by using the school's reporting procedures, through the use of the homework diary and through attendance of parents' evenings
- develop curriculum content to ensure that all learners have opportunities to develop and refine the skills set out in the Literacy and Numeracy Framework
- integrate literacy and numeracy into their teaching – whatever the subject matter
- inform discussions with parents/carers, learners and other teachers about learner performance

- help learners with their own self-assessment activities and planning for learning
 - monitor, assess and report on individual learner performance
 - identify learners who may benefit from intervention or who are working beyond age-related expectations
6. You should promote the pastoral care and welfare of your pupils and in particular you should seek to:
- Be vigilant for any signs of abuse or neglect and report these to the Designated Safeguarding Person, Mr Martin Williams, Deputy Headteacher (Pastoral Care) or the Deputy Safeguarding Person, Miss Clare Houston, Office Manager
 - Seek to assist and support pupils with any pastoral problems and refer on to the Pupil Coordinator or Head of Key Stage
 - Be aware of any pupils for whom you are responsible who appear on the school's medical list and familiarize yourself with the care plans of the small minority who have more severe conditions in order that you can recognize the onset of the condition and secure appropriate assistance.
 - Deliver the "Thought for the Day" on any day where pupils are in your charge as group tutor for a designated tutor period
 - Bring pupils to assembly promptly on designated days and remain with them for the duration (unless withdrawing on grounds of conscience or belief from any part which contains an act of worship)
 - Follow the procedures for organising trips
7. You should develop your skills as a teacher by:
- Participating proactively in arrangements for your professional development;
 - Reflecting on your own practice;
 - Sharing good practice with others and contributing to Faculty/ Departmental Schemes of Work and resources any examples of good practice of your own.
8. You should support and foster the collaborative working of any team within the school of which you are a part.
9. You should assist the work of any faculty or department in which you teach by attending scheduled meetings and contributing good practice to develop the work of the faculty/department
10. You should seek to secure the health and safety of yourself and others by:
- Having due regard to the school's health and safety policy
 - Familiarizing yourself with procedures for fire safety
 - Reporting accidents and dangerous incidents in accordance with school procedures
11. In general you should:
- Comply with school policies and act in accordance with guidance and procedures issued by the Headteacher;
 - Keep the allocated teaching room(s) in good order and report any defects according to school procedures

- Follow relevant personnel procedures such as those relating to sickness and leave of absence
- Undertake any duties as may be reasonably allocated by the Headteacher, following appropriate consultation, which fall within the duties set out in the School Teachers' Pay and Conditions of Service Document.

The job description and allocation of particular responsibilities may be amended by agreement from time to time.
