Help us to create a better workforce for the future generation!

The College's Electrical Department has a vacancy for a Tutor. We are looking for someone with excellent industrial experience, who is willing to share their skills and knowledge with young people aged 16 and above.

If you have been thinking about training the next generation but do not necessarily want to step fully away from your industrial work, this is a perfect opportunity to better understand the qualifications and link them to on-the-job activity, with the support of a highly skilled team of lecturers and tutors, whilst continuing to work flexibly in industry.

We will provide all of the necessary training and support you need as a Tutor, and to allow you to operate safely and effectively in an educational setting.

Salary Details: Tutor Scale: BS18-25 BAR 26-29
Currently £14.77- £17.79 BAR £18.37 - £20.42 per hour
This is an incremental scale with progression to each point on an annual basis. Commencing salaries will depend on your relevant industry skills and experience and will be assessed in accordance with the College's starting salaries matrix.

Hours of Work: Hourly Paid - to be worked flexibly covering absence & commercial activity by demand

Qualifications/Experience:

- You will have recent, relevant experience of working in the electrical field and ideally you will hold a Level 3 Electrical qualification. If you do not hold a Level 3 qualification, we may consider applicants who hold a level 2 qualification.
- You will also be supported to undertake and achieve an Award in Education and Training qualification during your employment.

Alongside excellent and flexible working terms and conditions, we also provide a generous holiday allowance and access to an excellent pension scheme and other health and wellbeing benefits.

You will be based in a workshop environment tutoring i.e. delivering practical demonstration along with guidance and support and assessing of students ability. You may also be required to deliver theory (dependent on qualifications and experience). Our electrical team have excellent practical skills and knowledge and a passion for delivering the vocational qualifications in a safe, professional manner.
